

What's the coldest you've ever been?

Read through the stories on the sheets that you have been given.
Consider at least four questions, and discuss with your partner / group.

Which of these sounds like it would be the 'coldest'?	Which of these included a second factor which increased the 'cold factor' of the situation?
Which of these happened in the most surprising place?	Which of these happened because the person hadn't prepared properly for the conditions?
Which of these sounds like the most fun?	Which of these sounds the most painful?
How were people's bodies affected in the stories?	Which parts of people's bodies were affected the worst / most frequently in the stories?
Which of the stories was potentially the most dangerous or life threatening?	Which of the stories happened in a place which you have personally visited?
Which of the stories was the most similar to an experience that you have had yourself?	Which of the stories would you most like to have been present at?
What were the coldest temperatures experienced, and where were they?	How did people know the temperatures that they mention in their stories?

What factors affected your choices?

When and where have you been the coldest and what were you doing?
